

World-renowned professional customer service and motivational speaker Doug Dvorak presents at The SEMA Show.

October 31, 2016

Las Vegas, Nevada – Doug Dvorak, for the fourth time, spoke at The SEMA trade show on Monday, October 31, 2016, at 2:15 p.m. at the Las Vegas Convention Center.

The Las Vegas Convention Center is holding the 2016 SEMA Show from November 1 through November 3. To kick things off, they've invited Doug Dvorak to speak at the pre-show event, one of the most popular and largest trade shows in all of North America.

The SEMA Show attracts over 100,000 industry leaders from over 100 countries and offers premier automotive specialty products. Many of the hottest products and brightest minds will be there. While there, attendees can attend educational seminars, special events, product demonstrations, and have the chance to network with others in the industry. Though it isn't open to the general public, tradespeople can register through Friday, November 4, 2016, with exhibit hours for new products starting at 8:00 a.m. and Westgate/LVCC displays starting at 9 a.m. on November 1, 2016.

Doug Dvorak presented on Monday, October 31 to open the show. He speaks over 75 times each year to Fortune 500 companies and various Associations around the world. To date, he has presented in over 100 countries to over 500,000 people.

Doug is also a member of the National Speaker Association (NSA) and the International Federation for Professional Speakers (IFPS). He carries a CSP (Certified Speaking Professional) designation, provided only to the best professional speakers. He has also been inducted to many prestigious international/national organizations, including the Motivational Speakers Hall of Fame and the Who's Who of Professional Speaking.
